CARNIVAL — THE BIGGEST DINNERPARTY IN DENMARK

Wallmans – the biggest and only dinnerparty in Denmark with international entertainment on the menu – has enjoyed 16 years of success in Copenhagen's Circus Building. Now Wallmans have decided to develop the concept that has been playing to packed houses in the Circus Building for years. That is what the new show, Carnival will be all about, when it premieres in autumn 2019. The audience can get closer to the show and the artistes than ever before.

Humour will also be playing a major role in Wallmans' major new show. For example, the English performer, Abigail Collins will be making her Circus Building debut. Abigail has performed in the West End and at London's National Theatre, and has received nothing but the highest praise from the British media.

WALLMANS DINNERPARTY - CARNIVAL

Carnival, Wallmans' new big dinnerparty, will be a tantalising mix of Danish and international artistes, fascinating acts, performers on live instruments, laughter, entertainment among the audience and a ton of surprises. It is a highly ambitious undertaking and will feature everything from the biggest hits through the ages by the likes of The Eurythmics and Queen to stunning circus artistry. As a special feature, Carnival will transform the classic dinner-show concept into an international dinnerparty, which will fill every conceivable nook and cranny of the Circus Hall. "People these days have access to an abundance of digital entertainment, but we sense that, more than ever before, our guests are after genuine, unique experiences that they can share with others.

By adjusting our concept, in which we will very much be obliterating the boundaries between audience and artistes, we aim to create a total, high-spirited experience. We want to give our guests even more to talk about at their tables – something they'll enjoy encountering in the company of family, friends or colleagues," says Dorte Fryd Ekelin, CEO of Wallmans in Copenhagen.

CRAZY COMEDY, A DANISH FEMALE SINGER AND WORLD-CLASS ARTISTRY

“One of the elements we really want to take up a notch is humour, and we’re giving 120%. We’re delighted to introduce audiences to the English performer Abigail Collins in the new show. She will have people rolling in the aisles with her character, Peggy Sued. She has a personality that fills the house. You never know what she’ll get up to next in a welter of champagne, charm and unbridled humour,” explains the producer of the show, Johan Espeland.

In the new set-up, Wallmans will also be presenting an amazing American-Canadian circus duo who perform on so-called ‘sway poles’ way up under the circus dome. It is an award-winning act, which will have the whole audience holding their breath in a state of intense excitement. The performers in this enthralling act are Shannon McGuire and Phillip Renaud.

Throughout the years Wallmans have presented a string of Danish singers on its stage, and this year audiences can look forward to meeting Louise Desiree Bottelet, to name but one. Audiences will know her from Skammerens Datter at Østre Gasværk, Schouw Teater and Next Teater in Copenhagen. And of course there will be no end of live instruments, sing-along and constant pressure in the entertainment, which will finally explode when all the artistes come together on the stage for Queen’s ‘We Will Rock You’, which will doubtless get the audience stamping their feet.

Welcome to Wallmans Circus Building and the biggest dinnerparty in town!
